- those who want to upskill themselves in order to find a job.

Certificates of attendance will be issued on completion of the course.

Project Management – Planning for Success!

Christopher Swart  B.Sc.  M. En.  Programme in Project Management

- Part One: The Triple Constraint
  The essence of Project Management is the ability to manage the relationship between the tasks / activities / work of a project to be completed on time and within budget. To do this we need to understand this relationship known as the “triple constraint”. In part one of this course we will explore the notion that success in a project is none other than to follow a set of instructions similar to that of a recipe. However, this recipe needs to be reliable and accurate.

- Part Two: Scope Management
  Scope Management is the process to complete a “to do” list within the project plan, or the “project recipe”. Why is this the cornerstone to project success? We explore the typical pitfalls in defining the tasks to be completed, and how this is related to what needs to be delivered, and why so many projects fail at this level.

- Part Three: Time Management
  In Project Management we plan to start each task identified on time, and to finish it within the estimated timeframe planned. Inevitably this will not happen, but we need to adjust our planning continuously to still finish the project as close as possible to the initial estimate for completion. We explore the tools that Project Managers use to do this, such as the Gantt Chart.

- Part Four: Cost Management
  When we need to estimate the budget for a project, that estimate need to be as accurate as possible. For this we use the ABC of Cost Management, i.e. Activity Based Costing. Together with the cost of equipment and materials, this will constitute our budget, but we then have to control this budget. We explore the tools for doing this.

- Finally: Variance at Completion
  What are the classical mistakes for not finishing a project within the estimated time? And why do projects inevitably run over budget? We look at ways to avoid this and the tools readily available to manage this process.

Cyber Security – Feeling Safe on the Internet
Octavia Chidyiwa B.Sc. Computer Science, Technical Support Manager, Computer Trainer

Cyber security is general Internet safety, which includes protection of anything connected to or accessible by the Internet – from networks themselves to the information stored in computers. Technology has changed tremendously in the past 25 years, and it only continues to advance. The Internet has brought us so many benefits: email, electronic messaging, and personal websites allow us to stay connected, informed, and involved with family and friends. The Internet also provides an easy way to shop, plan travel, and manage finances. However, with these increased conveniences, comes increased risk. The course content covers the following topics:
- Personal information is like money – value it, protect it
- Share with care – make use of privacy settings on popular online platforms
- Do not judge a book by its cover
- Look before you leap
- All that glitters is not gold
- Secure passwords
- Protection against online fraud (Banking, shopping, medical advice, online payments)

Date: 19 November Thursday 1830 – 20:30 Sessions: 1 Cost: R270
Finding your Way Around Windows 10
Octavia Chidyiwa  B.Sc. Computer Science, Technical Support Manager, Computer Trainer

Struggling to get to grips with Windows 10? Windows 10 does what it set out to do: Bring the Windows 7-style interface into the tiled universe. It is, in many ways, what Windows 8 should’ve been. It has all the advancements from Windows 8 - security, stability, power saving, and on and on - with much of the Windows 7 interface fully integrated. This course will cover the differences between Win 7 and Win 10 and will take you through a journey of the main features and changes in Win 10 from an interface change, ease of use, compatibility and security.

Cyber Security – Feeling Safe on the Internet
Octavia Chidyiwa B.Sc. Computer Science, Technical Support Manager, Computer Trainer

Cyber security is general Internet safety, which includes protection of anything connected to or accessible by the Internet – from networks themselves to the information stored in computers. Technology has changed tremendously in the past 25 years, and it only continues to advance. The Internet has brought us so many benefits: email, electronic messaging, and personal websites allow us to stay connected, informed, and involved with family and friends. The Internet also provides an easy way to shop, plan travel, and manage finances. However, with these increased conveniences, comes increased risk. The course content covers the following topics:

- Personal information is like money – value it, protect it
- Share with care – make use of privacy settings on popular online platforms
- Do not judge a book by its cover
- Look before you leap
- All that glitters is not gold
- Secure passwords
- Protection against online fraud (Banking, shopping, medical advice, online payments)

OneDrive – Cloud Storage for All Devices!
Craig Murray Computer Lecturer/ Head: IT Infrastructure & Network Administration

Microsoft OneDrive is one of the best kept secrets in the tech world when it comes to cloud storage. Learn how to make use of OneDrive on not only your computer but also your phone, tablet and even your Xbox! Learn about some of the hidden features like using online versions of Word, Excel and PowerPoint, right in the browser without needing any software installed! Bring along some files on a flash drive or have some files on your device so that you can upload them to the cloud and see just how easy it is to get your files into the cloud. Participants should ideally have access to a Hotmail, Outlook.com, XBox Live or any other Microsoft account so that you can sign into OneDrive and get going – if you do not have an account, one can be set up for you on the evening. You will need to arrive at least 15 minutes early to get this sorted out.

PHOTOGRAPHY & MEDIA

Introduction to Photography – Getting to Know your Camera
Craig Murray
Photographer/Photography Lecturer

Do you have a digital camera but feel confused by all the options on offer? A Christmas or birthday present that you haven’t made good use of yet because the camera seems intimidating? Come along to this course where the basics and foundation of good photography will be presented. Technical terms such as aperture, shutter speed and ISO will be covered, but so will subjects such as good light, framing and composition, as well as getting to grips with your sometimes-confusing camera controls. Camera accessories will also be discussed, for those who want to and are ready to take the next small step forwards on this incredible journey.

Please bring your cameras along to the course, with the camera battery fully charged – you will be taking pictures on the day. You can also bring your camera manual along if you’ve read something you don’t understand and would like some clarity. The course fee includes mid-morning tea and snacks.

Date: 7 November
Saturday
09:00 – 13:00
4 hours

LIFESTYLE, HEALTH & WELNESS

Making the Most of your Retirement
Paul Britton  B.Sc. (Forestry) M. Landscape Arch ~ Retired Consultant

Retirement isn’t just about having a financial plan. It’s about a life that is rewarding in other ways: with exciting goals, loving relationships and abundant health. This comprehensive workshop will prepare you for this new phase of life by looking at the following:
- Finding out what skills and experience you have to enable you to find a compelling activity to replace the needs formerly met by work and perhaps making some extra cash.
- Personal growth and how important is in to maintain mental health.
- The importance of fun and recreation and involvement in community activities.
- How to maintain sound relationships and avoid the “Grey Divorce”.
- Keeping fit and healthy especially mentally (an important aspect for reducing medical bills).
- Sorting out your life’s papers (your will, living will and decluttering).
- Where and when should you move house (if ever).
- How to budget to afford all the above and perhaps the need to downscale your lifestyle. This includes discussions on how to save and make use of senior discounts and benefits.

Mid-morning tea and snacks will be provided.

Date: 14 November  Saturday  09:00 – 12:30  3.5 Hours
Cost: R 240 per individual or R460 per couple

Living with OCD
Robyn Jansen van Vuuren M.A. Psychological Research

In December 2009, just as Robyn was trying to finish her Master’s thesis, she was diagnosed with Obsessive Compulsive Disorder (OCD). The truth, however, is that she had been living with this disorder since at least 1996 (when she was just 10 years old). She lived in silence and pain for over 13 years until her life had almost completely shut down and she finally reached out and asked for help. She had spent the majority of her life unable to trust any thought that she had because she wasn’t sure whether she had actually performed the actions she was thinking about, or whether they were just imaginings – her mind was like a prison. Getting help was both the scariest and most freeing thing that she have ever done. Mental illness, and especially OCD, is often misunderstood and inaccurately (or at least narrowly) portrayed by popular culture and social media. The aim of Robyn’s presentation is to present another (less known and more personal) side of mental illness, and to begin to highlight that mental illness is not something to be ashamed or afraid of, but something that needs to be spoken about and dealt with openly.

Xhosa for Beginners
Dr Tessa Dowling
Ph.D. Senior Lecturer in African Languages
Educators earn 10 CPDT points

You’ve always wanted to learn Xhosa – if only to understand what people are saying about you! But eish, the time, those clicks, people speak so fast! Suwara! (Don’t worry!) This course is designed just for you! You will learn how to click – not just with your tongue, but with Xhosa speakers – by using simple vocabulary, phrases and grammar to great advantage. You will also be taught how to listen to Xhosa by being exposed to some jokes and songs, and even rugby commentary and make-up tutorials. For those who attended her first course and would like to consolidate and learn new vocabulary – this course is for you as well!

We are very fortunate to have Tessa presenting this course. She has been described by a leading language academic as ‘both erudite and hilarious’. She holds a PhD in African languages from the University of Cape Town, where she currently lectures. She has received a provincial award for promoting multilingualism and has taught all kinds of adults in fields including politics, business and NGOs, how to speak Xhosa. She has written textbooks for the learning of African languages, as well as English, and is frequently called upon by the media to comment on issues relating to African languages. She writes serious (prize-winning) academic articles and lighter humorous pieces on African languages and is a popular speaker at conferences.

Having begun her study of Xhosa at the age of twenty-five, Tessa is living proof that an English-speaking South African adult can master an African language.
